

Jørgen Blomqvist obtained his LLM (1976) and PhD (1987) from the University of Copenhagen. He has worked with copyright issues in the Ministry of Culture, Copenhagen; as Research Fellow at the University of Copenhagen; as Assistant General Manager of the Danish collective performing rights management organization Koda; and as Director, Copyright Law Division, World Intellectual Property Organization, Geneva. Presently, he is Affiliated Professor of international copyright at the University of Copenhagen, where he undertakes research in and teaches copyright contracts and interpretation of international copyright conventions.